

A scroll with text on a parchment-like background. The scroll is unrolled, showing a central rectangular area with text. The scroll is bound with wooden rollers at the top and bottom, and the parchment has a textured, aged appearance with some creases and discoloration. The background is a dark blue, textured surface.

“Master Gordon has been training my son William for over 10 years and she has contributed to building his character, mind, and body. He has become a devoted martial artist and champion under her guidance; he has become a teacher and mentor to others because of her leadership. I highly recommend her as a martial artist and as a teacher, mentor, and counselor.”
